Candle-lite Goes Green With New Leaf™ Collection

Cincinnati, OH, USA – December 2008 – Sharing the concern and commitment of today's natural and green consumer, Candle-lite announces the launch of a candle collection specifically designed to minimize environmental impact.

The New Leaf™ collection embraces the global green trend via the use of the renewable resource soy wax blend, essential oils, recycled glassware, biodegradable corn-based label materials, 100% cotton wick and post consumer packaging content.

Fragrance and color selections for the New Leaf™ collection are inspired by nature and are showcased in two filled glass offerings, a 13 oz., 2 wick jar and a complementary boxed 8.5 oz. jar. Tea lights, votives and clear glass votive cups in the same clean lines of the filled jars are also available. Further enhancing the home fragrance experience, New Leaf™ introduces to the market a reed diffuser featuring colored fragrance oils.

The New Leaf™ collection will be available to ship early in 2009.
